

go into effect that they consist -- in the three highest tiers will be filled by the governor.

Section 26, filling vacancies in courts of limited jurisdiction, we provide here that prior to January 1, 1970, which is when the District Courts come into effect, the full-time courts in Baltimore City and in the People's Courts in Ann Arundel, Cecil, Montgomery, Prince Georges, and Wicomico will be filled by judges by appointment. The persons who fill those vacancies have to fill the requirements of the new Constitution.

Note the next to the last sentence, "Each person so appointed shall be subject to continuance in office by the procedures and for the term prescribed by Section 5.22 of this Constitution."

In other words, the six-year term goes into effect as to these appointments "prior to January 1, 1970, any vacancy occurring for any reason in the office of judge of any other People's Court, Municipal Court or the Housing Court of Baltimore County, or the office of any substitute or part-time People's Court judge in any county or in the office of justice of the peace shall be filled by the
